BISHOP APPEALS FOR ONE CHURCH

London.—A call for a reunited world church, taking in all Christendom was sounded by the Bishop of London, speaking at a gathering of thousands of Methodist representatives who earlier in the day had elected a union of the three main Protestant churches of the British Empire.

I hope I shall be to see another day, when the meeting took place, when, without any absorption of one with the other, a great result will be achieved.

When the meeting took place, when, without any absorption of one with the other, a great result will be achieved.

FARMERS TREKING TO WINNIPEG

Winnipeg.—Plodding out a weary 15 or 20 miles a day in an effort to keep an appointment with Premier John Bracken, hundreds of Manitoba farmers camped for the night in scattered farm houses on the road to the capital to present their complaints to the government about their inability to pay taxes and their other financial troubles.

Preceded by a truck filled with provisions and scouts who go about to arrange for accommodation the men, and some women, are converging on Lockport, 25 miles north of the city, where they hope to find themselves some for strong.

Summeridge.—With complete returns in hand every day, the riding, H. M. Downing, Conservative government candidate and Dr. John P. MacNeill, Liberal representative were held with 1,258 votes cast in today's provincial by-election for the fifth district of Prince.

An endeavor was being made to elect Mr. MacNeill, but the polling district of St. Eleanor's, where the returns were given as Downing 122, MacNeill 172. At Liberal headquarters in Summerside, it was claimed Dr. MacNeill had polled 122 votes. Some time was necessary to check up as to whether an error had been made.

An evening's entertainment worthy your patronage will be given by the boys and girls of the Senior Intermediate Sunday School Choir of the United Church Tuesday October 25th at 8.15 p.m. The church two one set plays will be given: "The Park Bench" and "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee". Some choice musical selections will also form a part of the program. Reservations may be made at the same time enjoy an evening of good music and fun, cleverly worked out and a battle of wits worthy of J. Garland. M. L. W. Brockington, K. C. & Co.

Mr. Oldham who has been residing in the Tucker house will occupy the Bailey property recently vacated by Mr. Oldham who has returned to the C. P. R. Farm.

Outawa.—I say we have done well, exclaimed Premier R. B. Bennett in the House of Commons, while his followers cheered and applauded in noisy endorsement of his views concerning the four trade pacts negotiated by Canada at the Imperial Conference.

The Herald Sunshine is making a very special appeal for contributions. We all know that the demands this year will be much greater than in past years as the conditions are much more serious. Many persons who have been unable to give money, will be able to do so this year. However they can help more than they may appreciate if they will donate vegetables or clothing. The calls on Sunshine during the next six months will be tremendous. Other organizations have exhausted their funds and Sunshine will not have the financial resources that it had in other years.

Therefore, Sunshine is inviting contributions of vegetables, clothing or both. In the case of vegetables, would it be possible for some one in your town to act as a collector? Sunshine would arrange for transportation to Calgary and, of course, for distribution. Last winter tons of potatoes were donated from outside points, the inspiration coming from Sunshine's friends in Calgary and other places following a fine example set there.

CHARLESWORTH TO HEAD RADIO COMMISSION

Toronto.—Hector Charlesworth, editor of Saturday Night and distinguished music and drama critic, has been offered the chairmanship of the new Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission and has accepted.

He said he would sever his connection with Saturday Night.

Mr. Charlesworth confirmed the report that his associate on the three man commission under the new nationalized scheme would be Lieutenant W. A. Steel of Ottawa, noted technical expert, and Major Murray of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

The appointees would be sworn into office on October 31, the newspaper added.

Mr. Charlesworth said: "It will be my aim to see there is a decent quota on every programme for Canadian artists and musicians. Details must be a matter for future consideration."

One of the first things that will claim Charlesworth's attention, the newspaper added, would be to see what improvement could be effected in radio programmes and service in the maritimes and in Western Canada, which largely ignores the demand for nationalistic programmes.

COMISKIEY TRYING TO BUILD WHITE SOX

Chicago—The process of rebuilding the Chicago White Sox into a winning team for the 1933 World's Fair was definitely under way with the acquisition of Al Simmons, George (Mule) Haas and Jimmy Dykes, important cogs in the Philadelphia Athletics three-time pennant winning machine in 1929-30-31.

The purchase of these three stars was executed in New York by President J. Louis Comiskey, and is believed to be the first deal in a series of moves calculated to make pennant contenders of the seventh place Sox of 1932.

More than $100,000 was reported to have been transferred to the Athletics for Simmons, American league batting champion in 1929 and 1931, and his two team mates.

Word received here from Comiskey was to the effect that the acquisition of the three Philadelphia stars was only the beginning of a rebuilding programme.

The White Sox are known to be looking for a pitching ace, which some believe to be Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland right hander who was suspended late in the season for insubordination.

Although Simmons who plays left field slumped a trifle last season in batting, his average dropping from .296 in 1931 to .322 in 1932, he drove in 116 runs, a mark surpassed only by Jimmy Fox and Lou Gehrig.

In purchasing Simmons, the White Sox assume one of the highest priced contracts in baseball. Simmons' contract which has another year to run, is believed to be $32,000 a year.

Haas, fleet centre-fielder, is 28 and has been with the Athletics since 1928. His major league average for five years is .307. He hit 205 the past season.

Third baseman Jimmy Dykes is 26 and has played with the Athletics since 1919. He has played every position on the team at one time or another, even appearing in the role of relief pitcher and he batted last. Although he has put in 14 seasons as a regular, the White Sox count on him to plug the gap at third base and steady an infield which will have at least two youngsters in it in 1933. Dykes' lifetime batting average is .285. He batted 268 the past season.

The old fellow was asking a friend's advice on how to apply for a raise in wages. Just you go up to the master, Joe, said the friend and say: Look here, master, you must give me a rise or else I'll—

Say it just like that; then he'll think you mean to leave unless you get the rise.

Joe went to his master and said: Look here, master, you must give me a rise or else I'll—

The son'll what? snapped the employer.

Joe scratched his head in perplexity, then answered, "The I'll go on working for the same money."

Duke says the turn has come for which we long did yearn. But there's a catch, as you may see, He does not say who's turn.

Doesn't your wife tell you when you stay out till three in the morning? Occasionally but usually her aim is perfect.

A canny couple from the North when on a visit to London took a journey in the "Underground." While descending in the lift, the old man was looking at a notice which read: Spitting strictly prohibited—penalty forty shillings, when his wife whispered to him: Eh John! I think I'm gone to be sick.

No, here, woman! No, here! John, look at the notice: it costs two pounds just to spit.

A very wealthy nation whose every head was a best seller received a number of verses from a lady he had met at a big dinner.

The lady had reproduced the picture of a frank criticism, with particular regard to one effusion entitled, "I Wonder if Hell Miss Me." After reading the latter, the author sniled wicidly.

He enclosed the poem in an envelope and returned it with the following note:

Dear Madam—If he does he should never be treated with it again.

Pete Vergaenen knows how to raise high quality potatoes.

The reason some folks prey not to be led into temptation is that they have more fun hunting for themselves.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CROP PRICE GUARANTY

Take advantage of this offer... Get the new equipment you need to reduce your production costs

Many farmers who need new machines for the economical production of their crops have been reluctant to buy them because of uncertainty as to the prices they will receive later in the year for these farm products. In order to meet this situation, the International Harvester Company of Canada, Ltd., offers to farmers purchasing machines after this date, a definite price guaranty on wheat based on 77 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Winnipeg, applying to a liberal portion of the purchase price of the machine. If the market price for wheat does not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, the purchaser of machines under the plan will receive a credit equal to the difference. Any farmer in Canada, regardless of where he lives or what he raises, can purchase McCormick-Deering farm machines under the terms of this offer.

This is your chance to replace wornout and obsolete equipment on a favorable price basis. Let us explain the details of this remarkable plan and tell you just how to take advantage of it in equipping your farm with the new cost-reducing machines you need at a real saving.

WHAT WILL NEXT ECONOMIC CONFERENCE DO

The Monthly Letter of the Royal Bank discusses the coming World Economic Conference.

The choice between a commercial warfare which will destroy the value of a considerable portion of the world's economic assets, reducing standards of living, and international cooperation which will create prosperity and raise those standards to new high levels, will be made by the Economic Conference which is to meet in London in the autumn of 1932, or the spring of 1933. Sir Arthur Salter has written that the wrong choice is incredible, that ultimate answer is certain.

"The immediate answer," however, is doubtful. In this, as in other spheres, we may drift on till national forces at last compel a solution after decades of intervening anarchy and disaster. Or we may, by deliberate policy, anticipate the conclusion and avoid the intermediate period of suffering and destruction. The issue depends upon a few great countries; upon their recognition that they cannot abdicate their responsibilities for the fate of a world which must be determined mainly from their decisions, or isolate their own fortunes from a world of which they are, and cannot but be,

Integral units. Nationality has been for many years the form in which the aspirations of man for liberty and free development have found their expression; nationalism is the abuse of nationality which now threatens all that it has given or promised with destruction. The present situation is the greatest challenge ever given to the constructive and collective intelligence of man."

In Washington, D. C. in April, 1932, there was the first open meeting of the Academy of International Economics, an organization established to study economic problems from a world point of view, to promote a wider understanding of the facts and tendencies affecting the world as an economic unit and to discover plans and policies calculated to restore international trade and conserve world prosperity. The Chairman of the meeting, His Excellency Dr. Marc Peter, Minister of Switzerland, in the course of his speech made the following quotation:

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men—will we read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time. In our own country there is a universal commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow citizens are turned out against the approaching winter without employment and without the prospect of it. In France the political caligin, social anarchy and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hanes as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe, while all the countries, resources, and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection and with its disturbed relations in China.

In opposition to the view that world trade must be restored stands the argument that each country must be at liberty to expand its own economic activity, to shut out the manufacturers of other countries, to develop a high Degree of self-sufficiency. Those who take this view may feel sorry for the misfortunes of manufacturing areas.

The world is becoming increasingly inter-dependent. The farmers, miners and fishermen of Canada need new and greater markets for their products.

Buying power must be increased and this can be achieved only by means of mutual concessions. The inter-dependence of the world must continue to become increasingly complex. There can be no high level of national prosperity divorced from world prosperity.

This is a British tradition and it is the world's departure from this tradition which is in no small measure responsible for the difficulties in which the business world is now involved.

As a preliminary to the International Economic Conference there is widespread pessimism. As yet there is a feeling that national governments are too divergent in viewpoint to make satisfactory international agreements. It may be that this particular Conference is doomed, but there was also pessimism concerning the outcome of the Ottawa Conference. At the Ottawa Conference national concessions were agreed. It is probable no country represented at the Ottawa Conference was completely satisfied with the results attained. In a like manner the World Conference will bring no complete success to any one nation. At the world, it may be a complete failure, but from that failure will come a better understanding of the difficulties of other nations and either through a second conference or a third or a fifth, or through agreements between individual nations, the haze will be established for a revival of world trade.

'PRODUCERS OF QUALITY PRINTING'

An ancient car charged painfully up to the gate at the Cochrane races. The gatekeeper demanding his usual fee for automobiles, called: "A dollar for the car." The owner looked up with a pathetic smile of relief and said "Sold."

Yes sir, panted Mike Moran, I got all the sheep in, but I had to run some to get those lambs.

Lambie? I have no lambie. Let's see what you got, was the answer. Looking into the shed the astonished owner saw fourteen panting jack rabbits.

STORM IN THE NORTH

Good three-inch wet brought to a sudden halt last Friday by a skiff of snow which was followed on Saturday by another snow storm with 22 degrees of frost over the night. While it was very unpleasant, stack threshing continued up to Saturday night, many finishing their bales. Most of the wheat in this district is now in tent to let it stay as long as the price is around 25c per bushel.

The Alberta Pacific Grain Company Ltd.

COMMENCING business in the North-West Territories in 1901—four years prior to the formation of the Province of Alberta—The Alberta Pacific Grain Company, and predecessor Companies, carries in its records a long line of service to the farmers of Alberta.

ALBERTA Grain Company, Limited, under the able management of John I. McFarland, continued business in 1901. Total production of wheat in Western Canada in that year had reached less than 65,000,000 bushels. Under Mr. McFarland's policy of fair dealing with all farmers, the growth of his Company kept pace with increasing wheat production in the West. In 1912 Alberta Pacific Grain Company, Limited, was brought into being under guidance of Mr. McFarland, and consisted of an amalgamation of Alberta Grain Company and Alberta Pacific Elevator Company, Limited.

THE "A.P." organization continued to grow. Its devotees followed the railway construction crews into the newly cultivated areas of Alberta and extended its operations into Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

WITH the completion of the building of the Panama Canal the "A.P."
became a pioneer in the movement of grain to import markets through the Western route. Terminal elevators, having a capacity of 5,250,000 bushels have been acquired by the Company at the Port of Vancouver.

THE "A.P." system has passed through the financial stress of 1907-08, the war and its aftermath; boom periods and the business upheaval of the past three years—a period of years, many of which have been obscure and filled with business uncertainties. In all its three decades of dealing with thousands of farmers and the handling of hundreds of millions of bushels of grain, the Company has never failed in an obligation to any client.
Among its customers to-day are pioneers of Alberta who drew the first bushel of grain they produced in the Province to an "A.P." elevator.

FAIR DEALING with its customers, coupled with competent office and field staffs; efficient physical grain handling equipment and desire and ability to return to the grower the most that can be obtained for his grain, has brought the "A.P." system from its humble beginning in 1901 to its present position in the grain trade of Canada.

THE policies of the "A.P." today are and will continue to be, those of the founder of the "A.P." system.
